

Erasmus student training

Courses "FOU" - French for University Purposes

The "FOU" internship is offered before the beginning of the semester (in September) for international exchange students. By participating in methodology classes, students become familiar with French university life. This intensive French course also allows students to review their linguistic fundamentals: it offers them the opportunity to prepare for university entrance and to acquire the linguistic, academic education and methodological skills necessary to succeed in their studies..

Semester courses in FLE (French as a Foreign Language)

These courses of 50 hours per semester, for a levelling and an improvement of French (spoken and written), include modules of Language-Culture (courses of French language, civilization and culture). The courses give right to ECTS credits (4 for the language courses and 4 for civilization and culture).

The assessment test is done within the framework of a continuous evaluation (writing assignments, presentations on a civilization topic, production activities integrating a grammatical reactivation, realization of "tasks" in the action-oriented sense of the word...).

Training intended for exchange students from partner universities and open, subject to availability, to any non-French speaking UPJV student.

Documents to provide to apply (already required in the study contract) :

- a photocopy of the identity card or passport,
- a copy of the visa (for students coming from countries outside the European Economic Area and Switzerland)
- a passport photo
- the completed registration form.

Training duration : 25h tutorial or 50h/semester

Fee: free for all UPJV registered student
